OUR CHALLENGE

PRESENTING THE CHALLENGE

FOREWORD

In our quest for temporal and eternal happiness, we find the only Master Key that will open the gates of salvation is the one with the engraved figure of our merciful Savior.

As graduates of Notre Dame High School, we seniors are permeated with the never old principle of Faith and are the fortunate possessors of such a key which opens the door to a future challenge in a materialistic world.

In our 1961 Yearbook, we hope to demonstrate the theme, "Christian Education at Notre Dame Presents to Us a Challenge". It is her Christian training that sets Notre Dame apart, places her among those on top, instills in the student body a desire to excell, encourages each individual to develop his talents, to profit from unlimited educational opportunities, to become a contributing member of society.

Each year brings new ideas, new experiences, new goals. These influence the molding of every student into a complete individual, a worthy representative of the overwhelming challenge of Notre Dame High School.

THE RIGHT REVEREND
MONSIGNOR JOHN J. O'BRIEN

We, the Seniors of 1961, take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude to Monsignor O'Brien, whose undying interest in Christian Education has prompted him to erect a school which is second to none in our state -- Yes, a school from which we are proud to graduate. It is Monsignor's fatherly interest in all our affairs, both spiritual and temporal, that has inspired us to make success our goal.

REVEREND DANIEL M. KIRWIN

Superintendent of Diocesan Schools

The Diocesan Board of Education under the direction of Reverend Daniel M. Kirwin ably organizes, guides and directs the Parochial and the High School Systems of the West Virginia Diocese.

KEEPING NOTRE DAME OPEN

The School Board of Pastors have provided a central high school, Notre Dame, that insures an improved learning situation, an educational institution that is second to none in the state. Their major concern is to maintain this standard.

FACULTY

GUARDIAN OF OUR CHALLENGE

Under the guidance and leadership of Sister Anne Regina, Notre Dame has experienced steady growth and has received wide recognition. It is the desire of Sister Anne Regina and the entire faculty that Notre Dame give to students a foundation that will enable them to develop a sound philosophy by which to live, a foundation that will insure for them a happy and successful future, based on Christian principles.

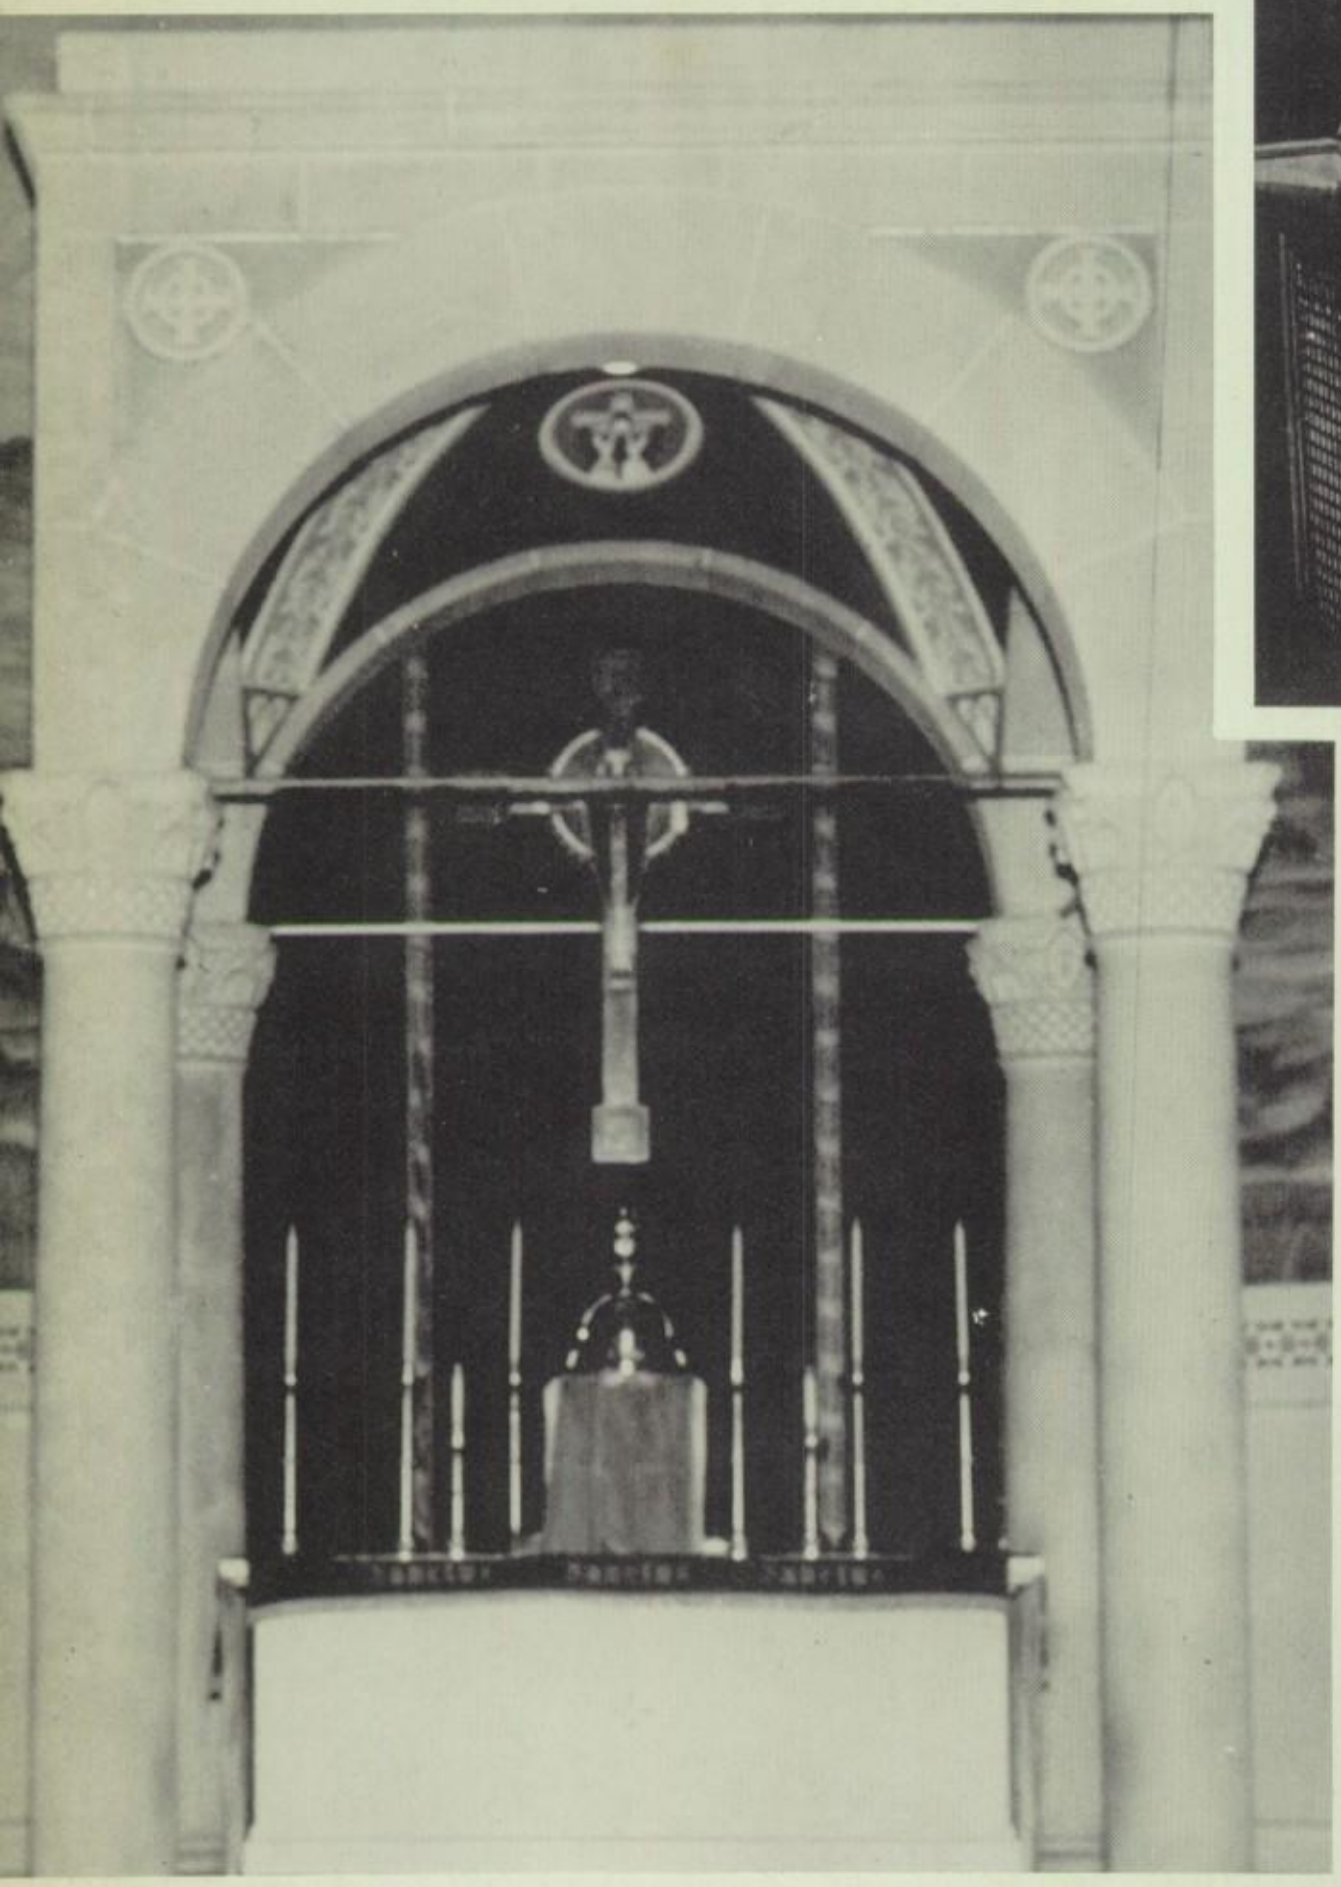
---of maturing through sharing school life experiences---of becoming citizens---of finding our places in school and community.

CURRICULUM

Religion



Notre Dame students asking the blessing of the Holy Ghost on the coming school year.

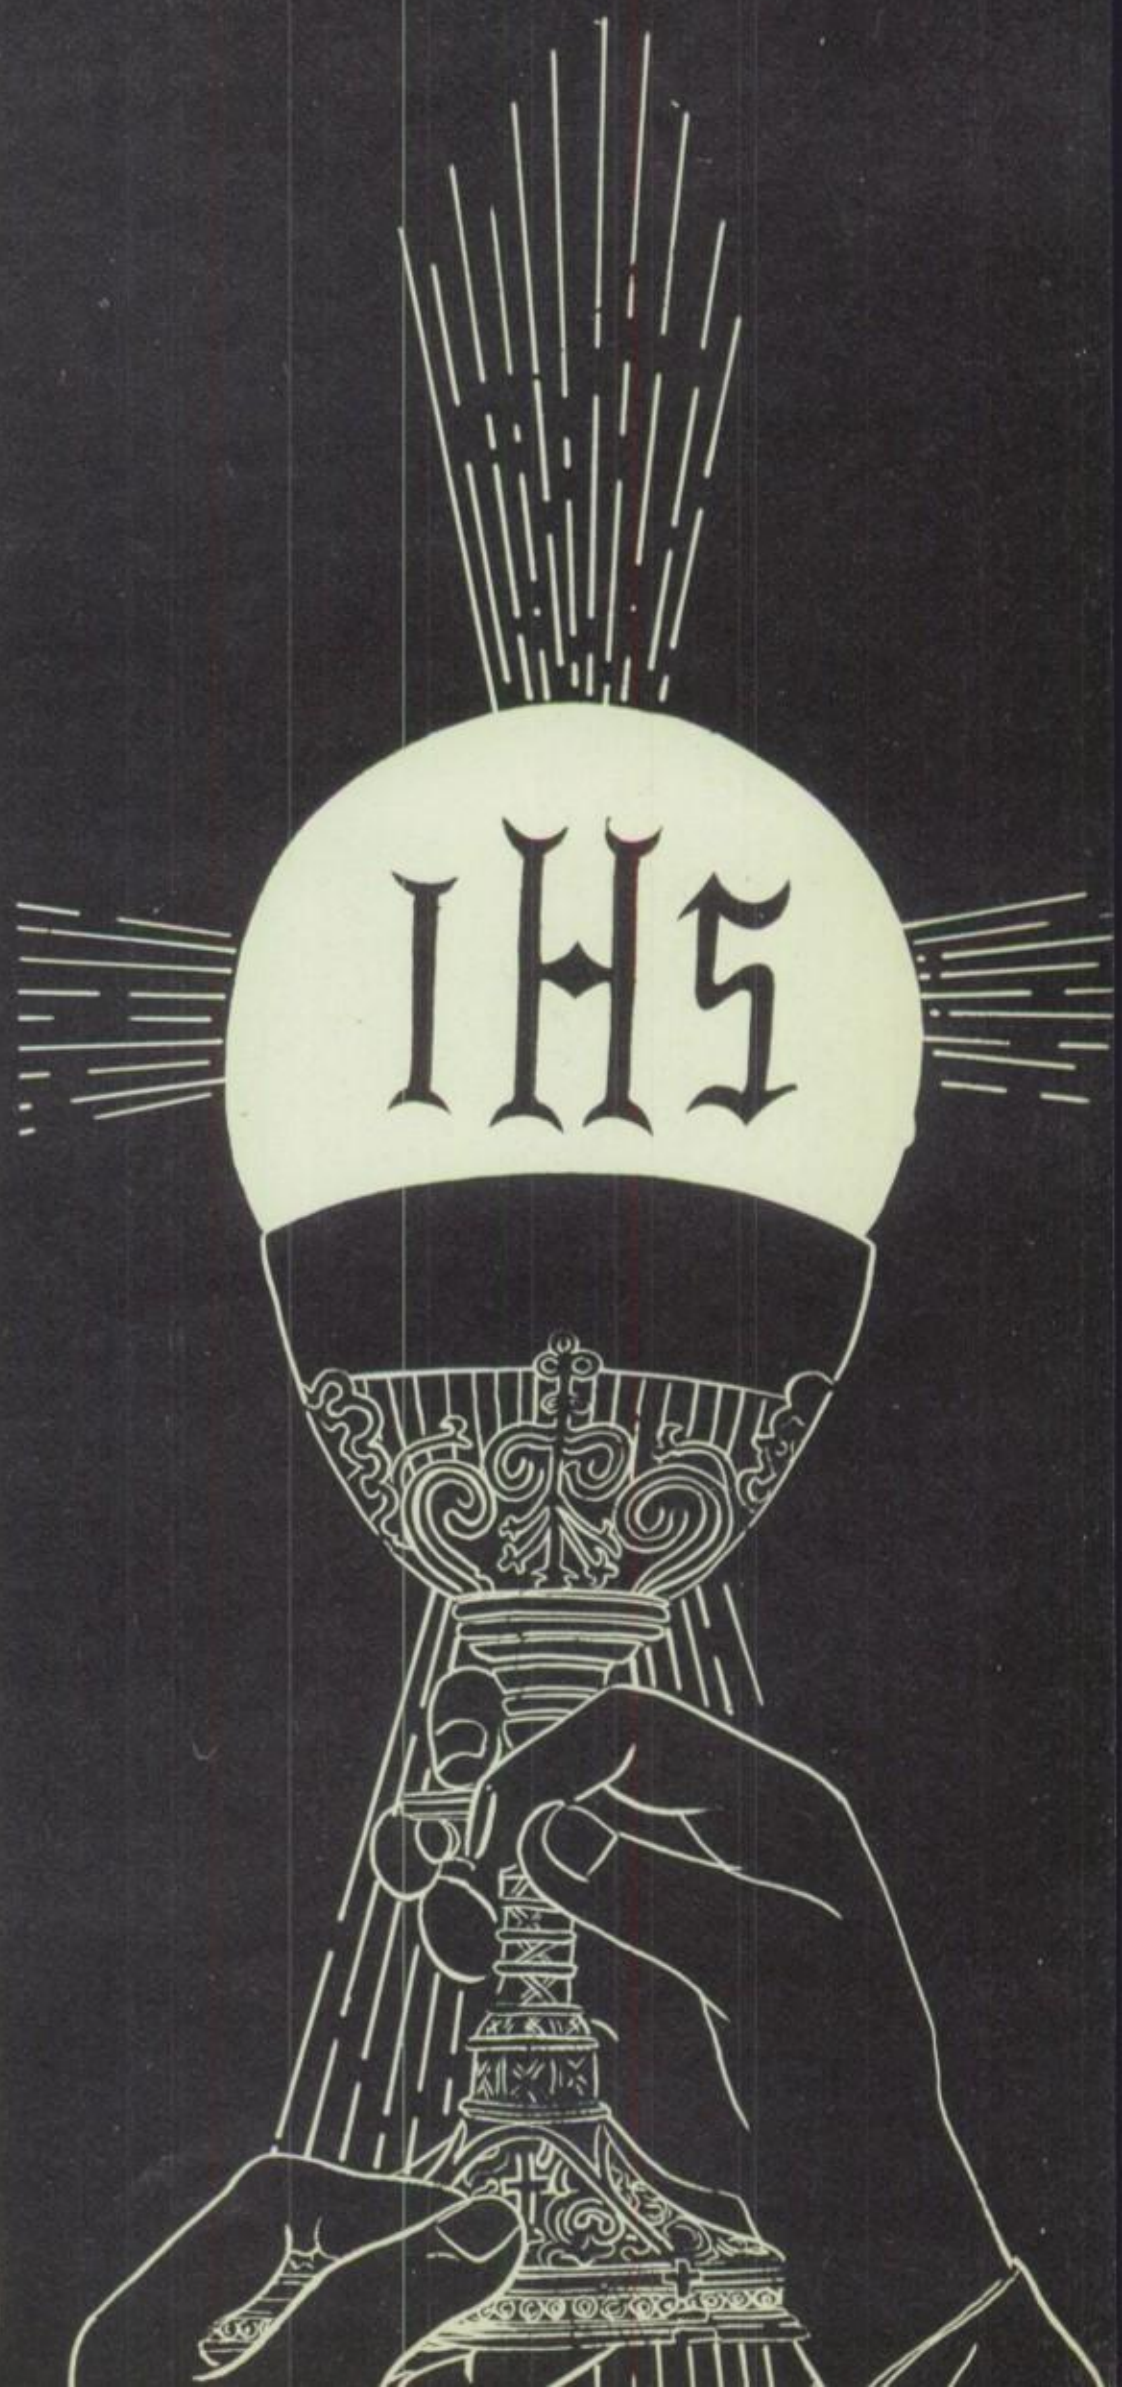
The altar at which the Right Reverend Monsignor John J. O'Brien celebrated the Mass of the Holy Ghost.

The MASS OF THE

On September 6, the traditional Mass of the Holy Ghost inaugurated our school year. The Mass was celebrated by the Right Reverend Monsignor John J. O' Brien, Dean of the Clarksburg Area and Pastor of the Immaculate Conception Parish. The Holy Mass was a reminder that we have a duty toward God, our parents and ourselves to study and to model our lives after Christ.

HOLY GHOST

MY LORD AND MY GOD!



RELIGION MAKES---

Father McDonnell is instructing Christine Colombo, Alice Ann Deegan, and Thomas Crowley in Senior 202 Religion.

Religion, the keynote of Catholic Education, promotes growth in grace and wisdom before God and man. In religion classes, taught in the four years of high school, the students are instructed how to correlate daily tasks with spiritual life. They are directed to rise above the realm of the natural and material to the heights of the supernatural and spiritual.

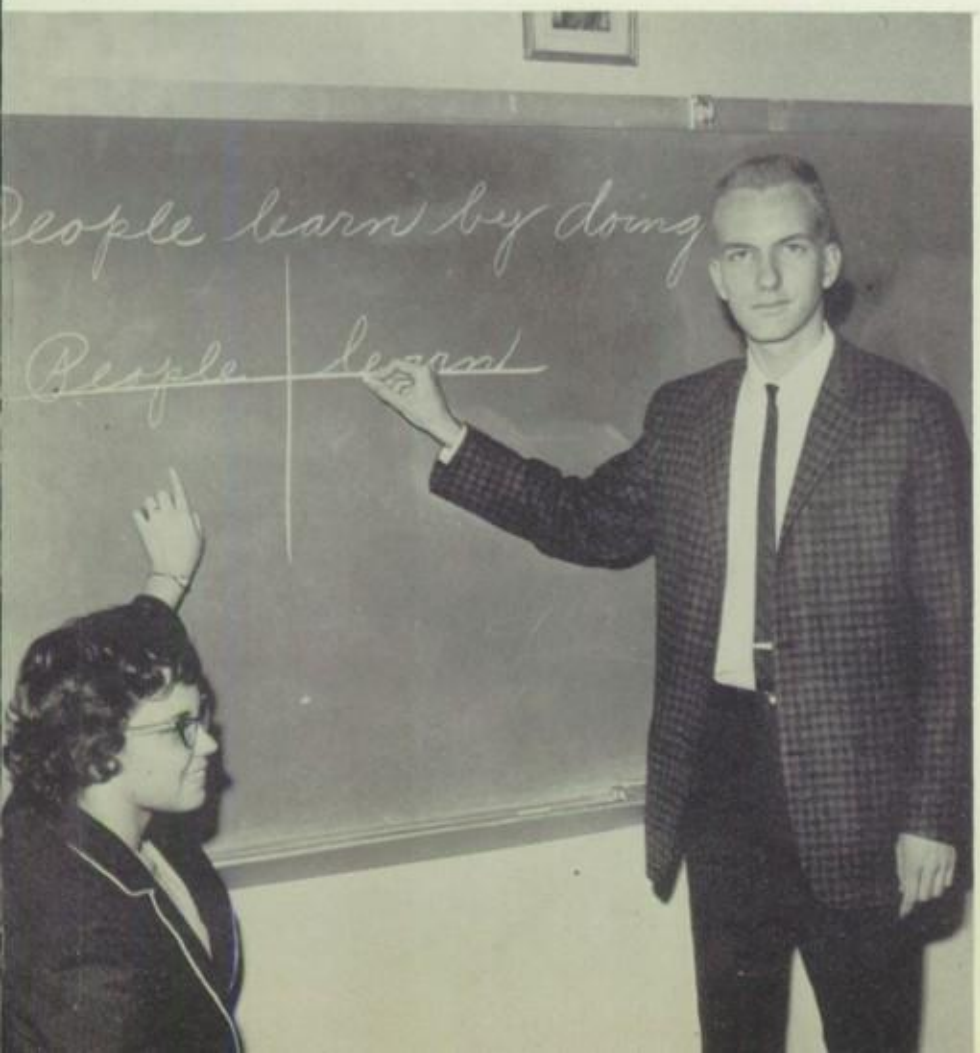
Father Heaney conversing with Patricia Sinsel from his Senior Religion 203.

TOWARD OUR OBJECTIVE.

Wholesome reading contributes to character training by forming good habits and building intelligent leaders.

Marielena Rodriguez
Library Assistant

Left to right: Joe Scotchie, John Gocke, and Mary Adams of English I, study the use of the card catalogue.



Carolyn Price
Library Assistant

Carolyn Fredrick and John White of English III demonstrate sentence structure.

A MULTITUDE OF POSSIBLE MIRACLES ARE---

SCIENCE

Rose Lee Bellotte and Alfred Molina of Senior IV General Science Class discuss "Science in Daily Life".

As we stand on the brink of the Atomic Age, one can readily perceive that there is an increasing demand for trained scientists. Notre Dame, with a commendable course in science, attempts to provide future scientists for our country by offering a four-year compulsory science program, from which several winners in both Local and District Science Fairs have been produced.

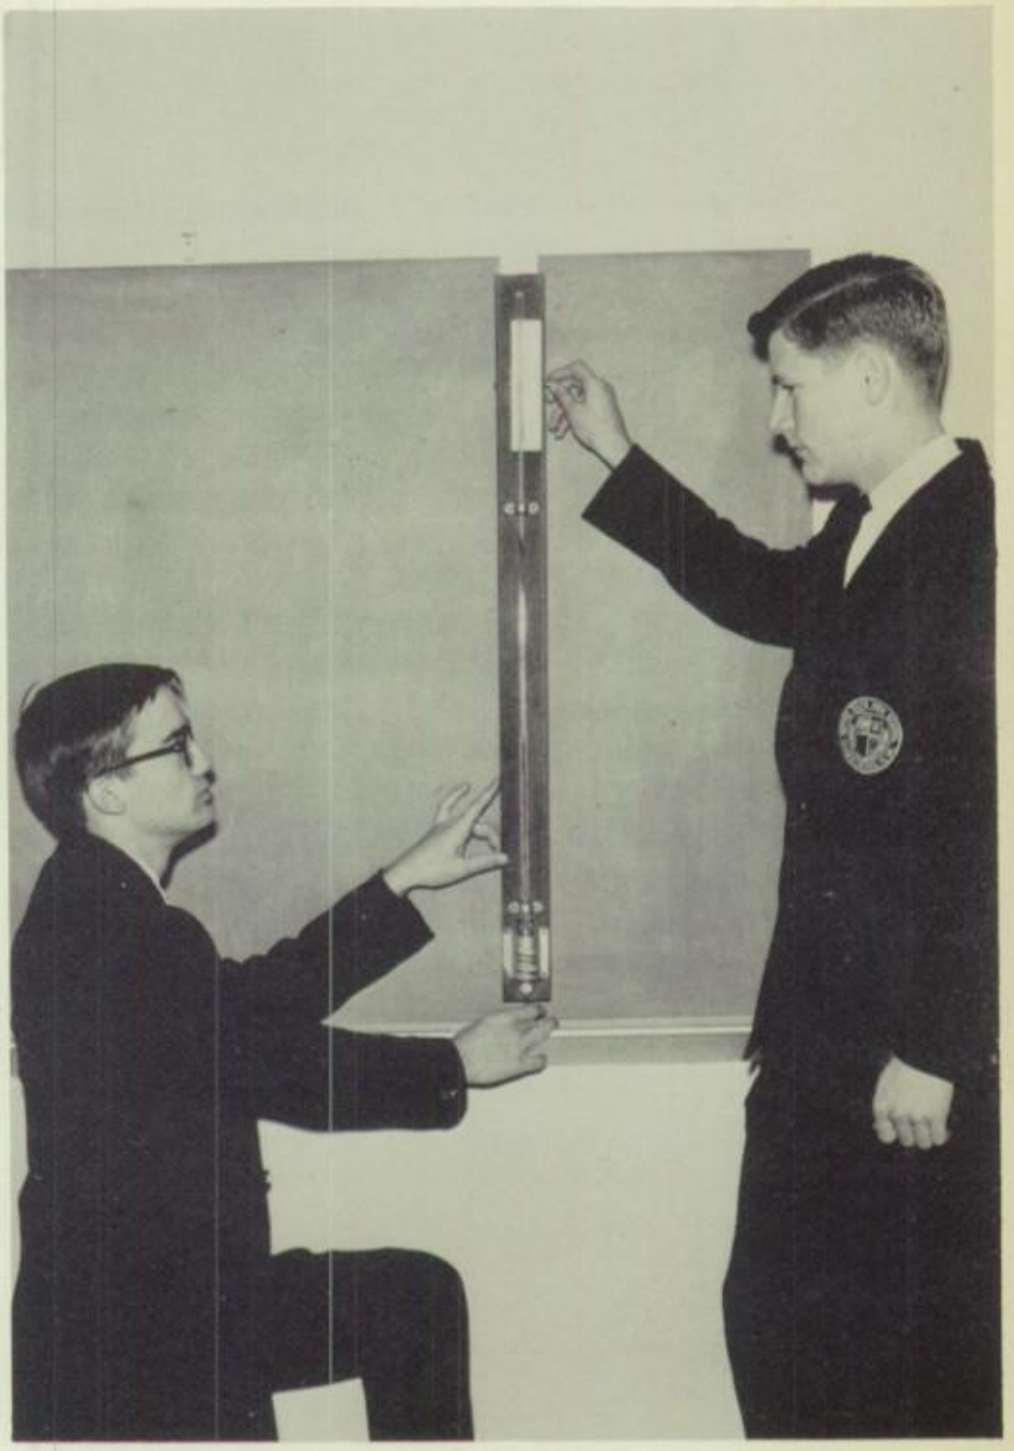
The 1960 representative, chosen to attend the National-International Science Fair, was a Notre Dame student, who carried away National Honors. Another Notre Dame student was selected to represent the school at the First Life Science Institute held at West Virginia University.

Thus, the study of science at Notre Dame opens various paths to a better knowledge of God's wisdom and love with an understanding of the wonders of nature. The daily study of the marvels created by God inculcates in future scientists a greater love of the Source of all Creation . . . God.

HOUSED IN THE HUMAN BRAIN

SCIENCE

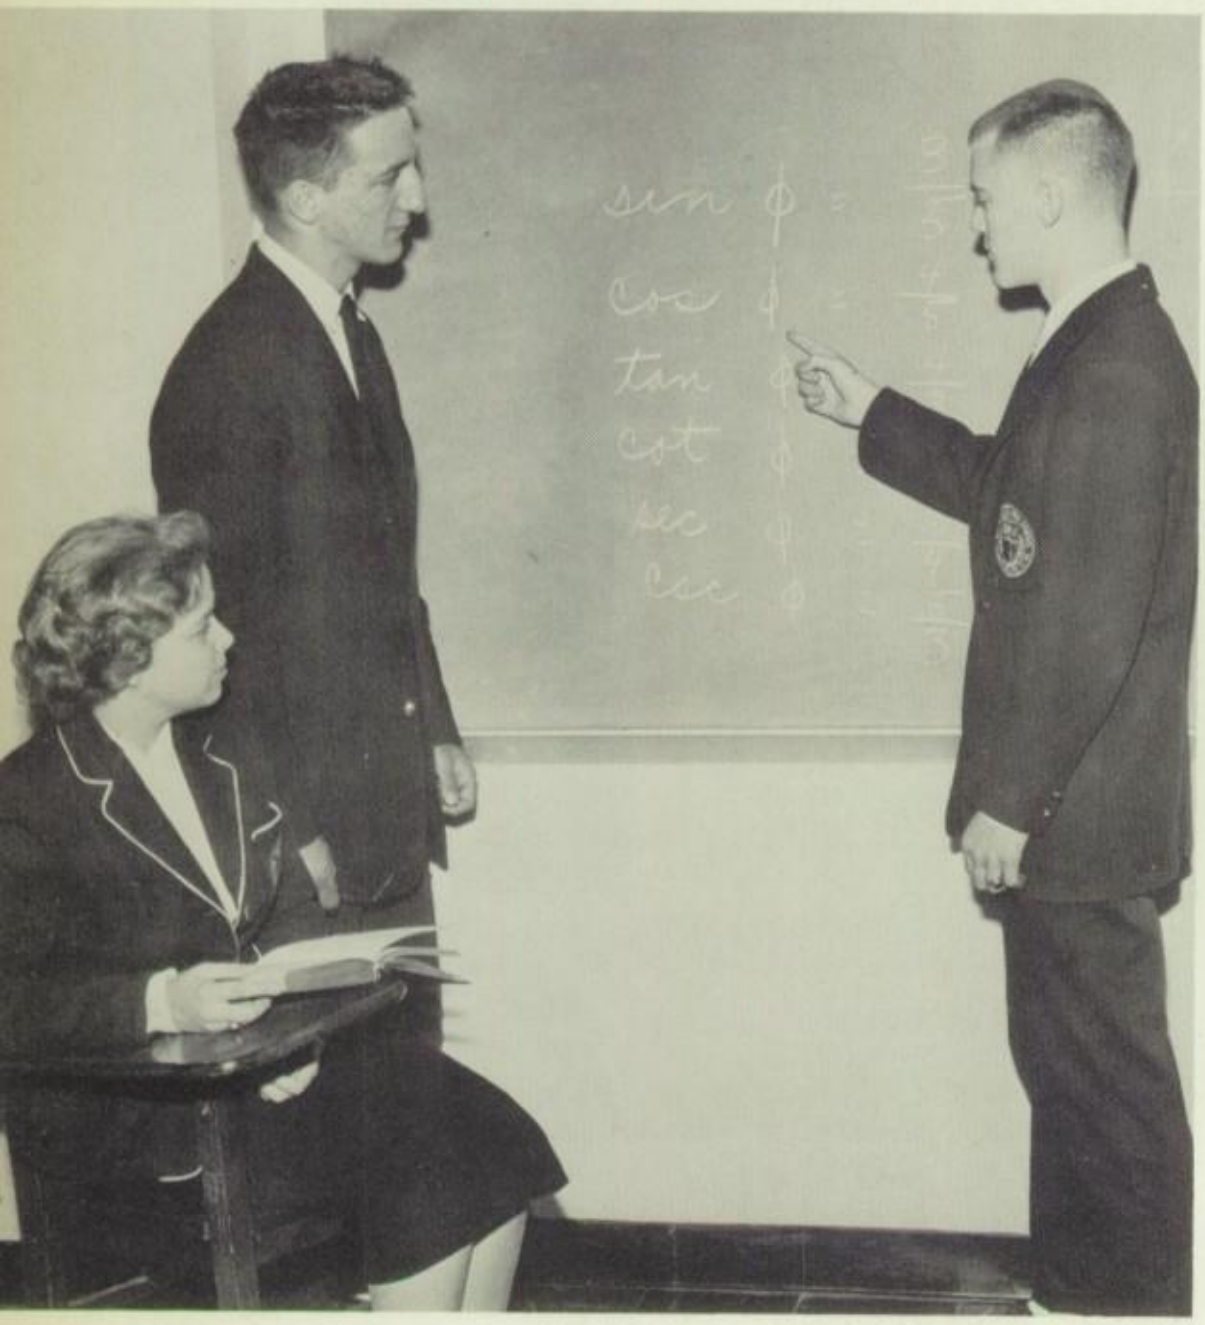
Kathleen Romano, Jim Aucremanne and Amelia Saliga discover the wonders of microscopic organisms.



John Newhouse and Ed Deison are reading the barometric pressure to insure accuracy in the study of gas volume in chemistry.

Jim Oliverio, Mike Gocke and Jim Gocke are finding the buoyant force of water.

THERE CAN BE NO ADVANCEMENT



Francis McQuillan demonstrates his work in trigonometry to Adella Pahuta and Joe Mazzei.

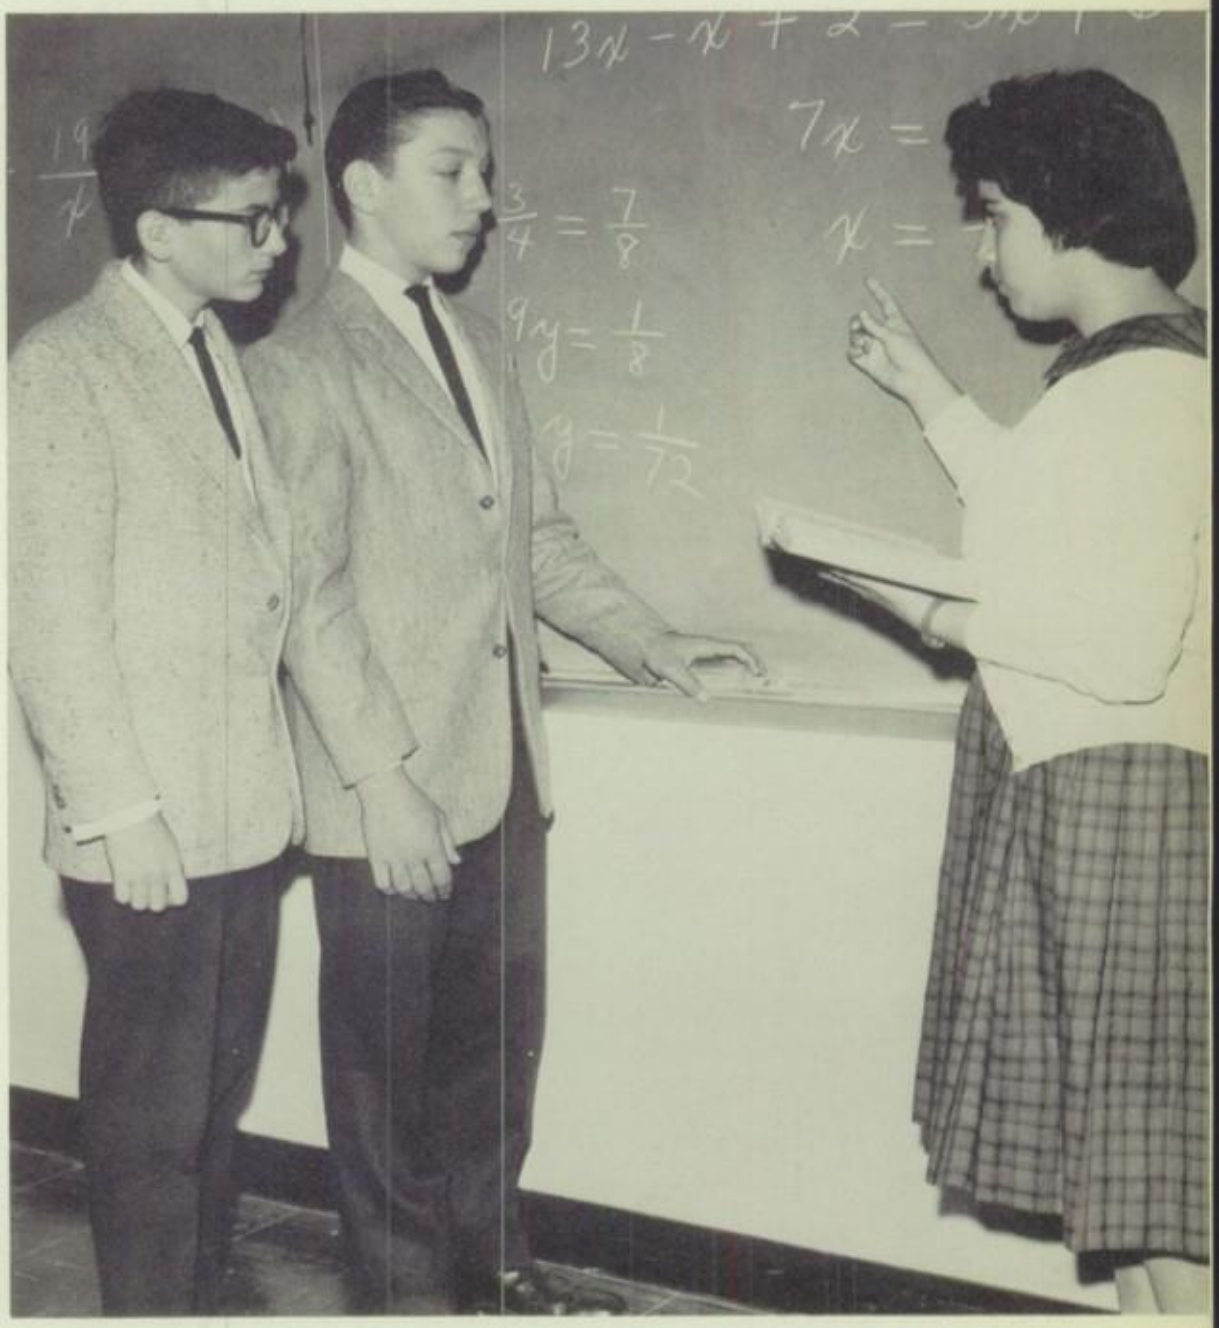
MATHEMATICS

Mathematics is the key that opens the doors to alertness, precision, accuracy and to the development of reasoning faculties.

Here at Notre Dame, students are provided with a four-year course in mathematics. This includes algebra, geometry, trigonometry, general mathematics, advanced algebra and business mathematics. Notre Dame's mathematics department is second to none in the city.

WITHOUT SERIOUS THOUGHT

Pat Kelly is proving to Mary Kreyenbuhl that his work in geometry is accurate.



Thomas Alonso, Raymond Fragale and Mary Ann Gambazza are beginning to realize that x and y are the most familiar letters of the alphabet.

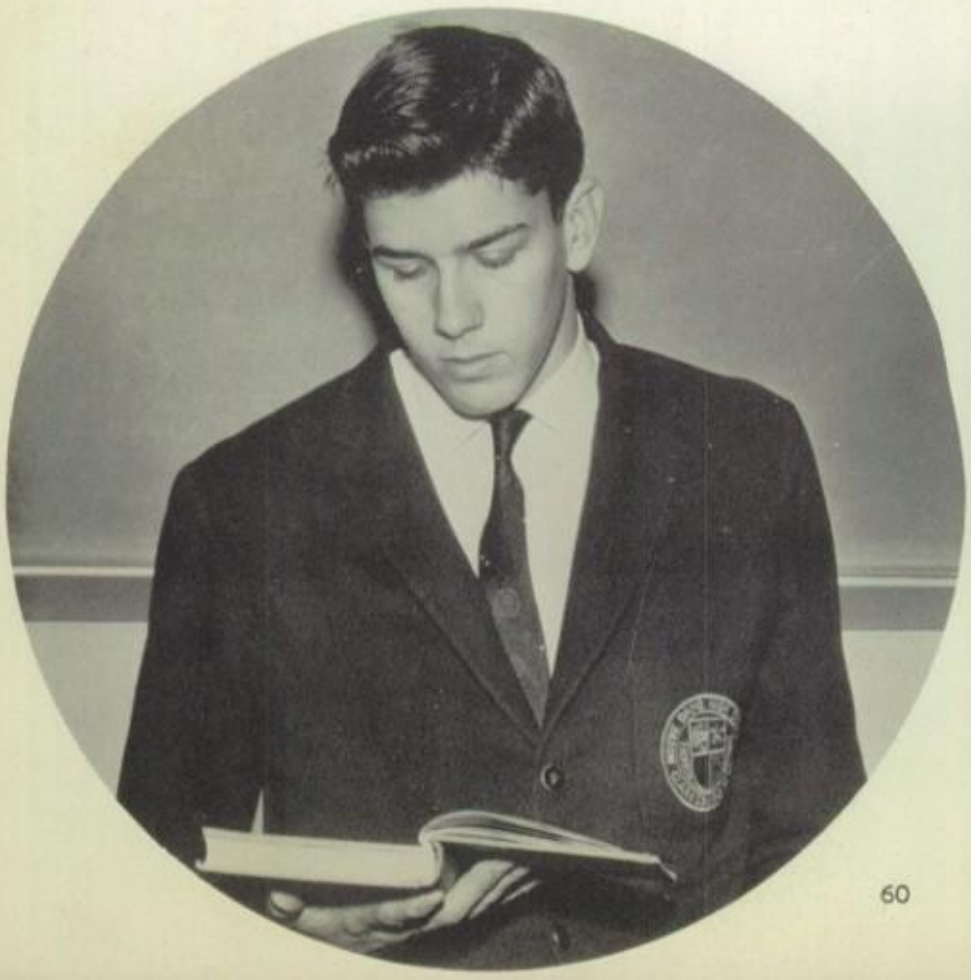
Joe Saliga, Mary Ellen Iaquinta and Frank Perri claim algebra is most important in every phase of life.

MATHEMATICS

SPIRITUAL FORCES INFLUENCE---

Jane Mazzei, Edward Aman and Pamela Wilson discuss the need of civics in modern society.

Jim Keeley prepares for a test in economics.



SOCIAL STUDIES

It is a challenging task to make the past relive. The Social Sciences disclose to us historical and geographical events which broaden our knowledge of the past and present. They develop sound mental attitudes toward God, our neighbor and ourselves.

Edward Saas demonstrates to Katherine Donnelly how American History is the key to adventure.

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC IDEAS.

Lydia Robinette, John Carney and Catherine Iaquinta put sociology into practice by filling Christmas boxes for the poor.

Mike Conley and Dan Collins make a study of World Geography by locating historical places on the globe.

Steve Rymasz's slogan is "Democracy and Freedom under God".

Toni Foppiano and Mary Broderick discuss problems in Modern History.

THE LANGUAGES INSTILL RESPECT FOR---

FRENCH

French, the world's favorite language, exerts a magical appeal on growing minds because of its practical and cultural value.

Left: Sara Spatafore Right: Carolyn Espel

This class in French II is making a study of the famous French Artists.

In the study of French I, Donna Ryan, Mary Ellen Sereno and John Coughlin learn of the land of romance and of the saints while they diligently apply themselves to French verbs.

THE INDIVIDUAL AS A CHILD OF GOD.

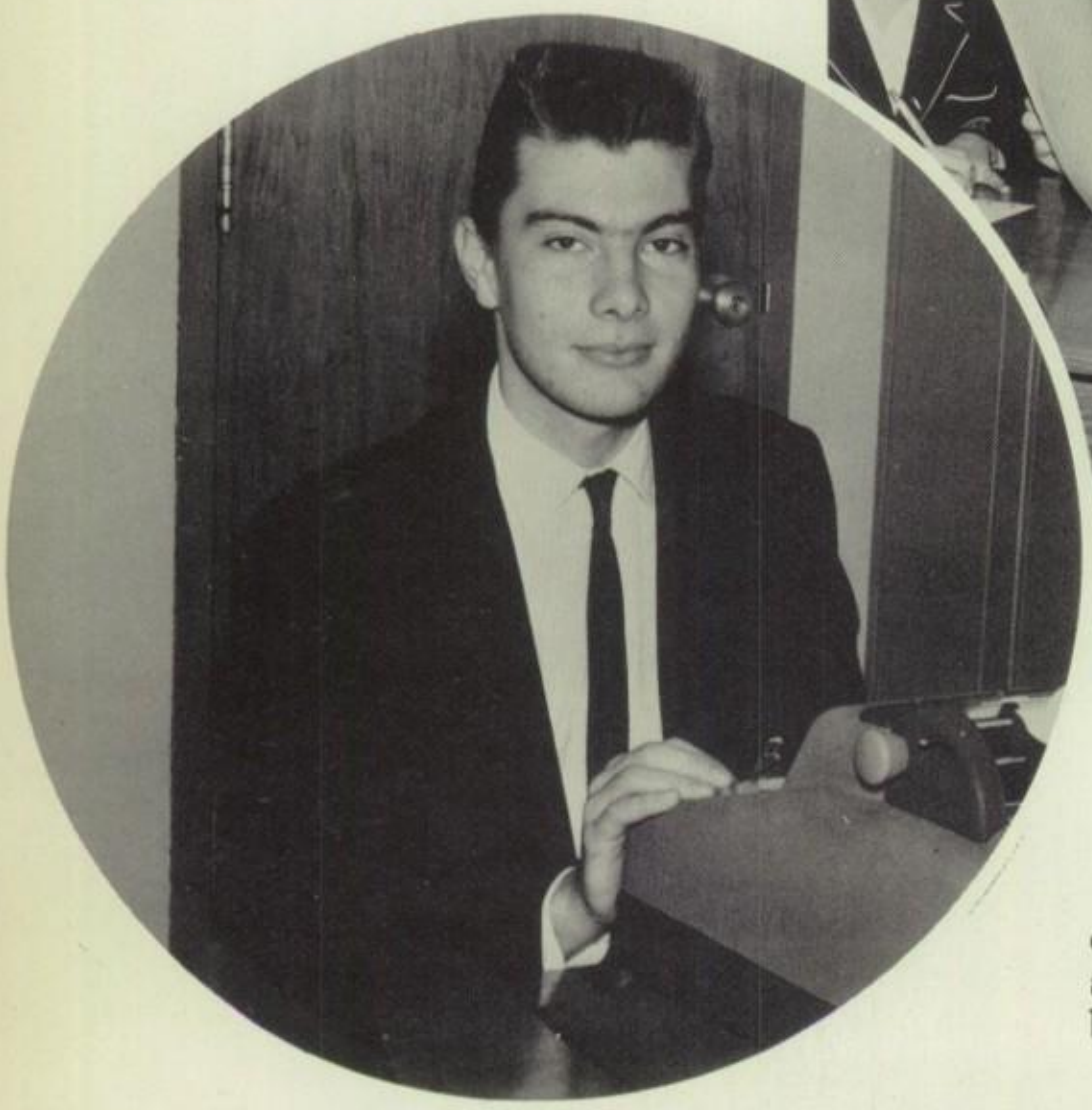
Second Year Latin takes Martha Caputa, Jean Scott and Lewis Stumpo back to the Roman Empire . . . its mythical foundation on the seven hills, as told in the Aeneid, to the Rise of the Caesars and to the "Age of Augustus".

Left to right: Sally Lynch, Margaret Portaro and John Poniewasz illustrate variations in the third declension in Latin I. Students find Latin a fascinating subject because of its link with Holy Mother Church and the Old and New World.

COMMERCIAL SKILLS DEVELOP--

COMMERCE

Tom Ryan is putting the adding machine to good use.



Marie Portaro, George Agrippe, and Martha Simon study bookkeeping.

The Commercial Course at Notre Dame offers many opportunities to a number of inspiring youth to hold successfully a place in the business world.

Ethel Devano, Mary Ann Naumann, Richard Duez, and Bob Richards of first year typing class are learning the necessity of precision in the commercial course.

HABITS OF THRIFT AND INTEGRITY

Jerry Povroznik, Lucille Nardella, Judie Arco, and William Foppiano are demonstrating good rhythm, accuracy, and speed in typing II class.

Catherine Simirotis and Carol Ann Somazze are putting the mimeograph to good use.

Terry Gloeckner is making a study of Business Arithmetic.

Jo Ann Frederick, Roxanne Folio, and Jean Kroll are studying shorthand.

HOME ECONOMICS DEVELOPS---

HOME ECONOMICS

Under the competent leadership of Sister Mary Louise, the Home Economics Department has grown by leaps and bounds. Classes in both junior and senior years have become proficient in the necessary art of homemaking.

Mary Lou Skidmore, Ann Rodriguez, Elizabeth Veltri, Mary Elliott, and Jean Beech declare muffins are delicious when the recipe is followed.

Christine Colombo designs a party dress for Marlene Tiano.

THE HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW.

Busy Bees? Yes, Deborah Mancino, Delana Mancina, Carole Sanderbeck, Patricia Molina, and Ethel Devono prepare dress materials and lay out their smartly designed patterns.

Victoria Kroll, Margaret Veltri, Kathleen Romano, Frances Mazzei, and Donna Oliverio are enjoying the "Continental Flavor" in Home Economics Class. Nationality Day starred four countries. The Irish made Irish stew; the Germans, sauerkraut; the Polish, pig-in-a-blanket; and the Italians, a special kind of spaghetti.

TEAMWORK DEMANDS---

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A thorough education calls for a strong mind in a sound body. Physical exercise, not only strengthens the muscles, but trains students in fair play. Ideals acquired in good sports, will follow students into future years and help them play fairly the game of life.

Interesting formation! Does it spell victory to Miss Marchesani? Mary Deluca, Margaret Veltri, and Monica Maseda are accurate in their recordings as Coach Marchesani's smile would indicate.

Sarah Julian fears the ball may be on a journey to the moon when she sees Jean Scott reach into outer space.

UNITY IN ACTION.

Mary Kreyenbuhl, Elma Sevick, Amelia Saliga, and Imelda Deegan members of the sophomore class try successfully to capture the ball from their opponents.

NOTRE DAME APPRECIATES THE RICHNESS--

MUSIC

Music is the key to aesthetic life. To raise our hearts and minds to that Divine Musician is the keynote of this relaxing study. Through the magical use of song, our souls are enriched with spiritual thoughts.

SPORTS

In our challenge, one door, yet, remains closed. We can, however, open it with the small but strong key of Physical Development, an important aspect of school life at Notre Dame. Upon opening the door, we see our fellow students training physically, mentally, and morally. Through sports, minds become capable of quick thinking. In physical training they develop fair play, coupled with physical maturity and self-control.

IN MEMORIAM

HIS EXCELLENCY
THE MOST REVEREND THOMAS J. MCDONNELL
COADJUTOR BISHOP OF WHEELING

"Miserere mei Deus!" Though a light has gone out on earth ...a new star is in the heavens! Thus, we describe the death of Bishop McDonnell, a gigantic figure in the Wheeling Diocese. Mourned within and without the state, Bishop McDonnell was a man who accumulated a wealth of wisdom, of learning, and of knowledge. This accumulation he leaves to his people of all times.

In a very special way...Catholic Youth of the present, of the past, of the future can but remember with grateful pride and appreciation...the bishop's yearly presence at the Catholic Tournament, during which he was stricken this year.

Our memories of the life, the achievements, the teachings, the sacrifices of Bishop McDonnell will not fade...time will but enhance his lustrous glory. Eternal rest, grant him O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him! May he rest in peace.

John,
Best of luck to a nice quiet boy
who really deserves it.
He'll have to work hard from now on, but with a little luck and prayers, we'll make it after eight years. Remember the good times spent at N.P.H.S., and use your talents so that success will be yours.
